

Public Health and Safety Advisory

CORRECTED March 4, 2020 (originally released March 3, 2020) - The Colorado Department of Revenue (DOR) Marijuana Enforcement Division (MED), in conjunction with the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE), is issuing a Health and Safety Advisory (HSA) due to the identification of Vaporizer Delivery Devices¹ containing Medium Chain Triglycerides oil (MCT Oil) that were sold in Colorado after January 1, 2020. The inhalation of substances such as MCT Oil (e.g. coconut oil, palm oil, etc.) may pose a threat to public health.

It's important to provide some background on this issue. As public health and regulatory agencies around the nation and internationally learned more this past summer and fall about vaping-related illnesses, concerns emerged about the serious potential effects of certain additives in vaping products. With stakeholder input, MED developed a path to phase certain additives out of the market. On November 5, 2019, the State Licensing Authority promulgated rules effective January 1, 2020 that prohibited specified additives that had been present in some Vaporizer Delivery Devices, and that included a specific prohibition on MCT Oil in Regulated Marijuana Concentrate and Regulated Marijuana Products with an intended use of inhalation.

As a result, licensed manufacturers of Vaporizer Delivery Devices that may have been using MCT Oil phased it out of new formulations of these products on a timely basis, but MED became aware that in some limited instances Vaporizer Delivery Devices with prohibited MCT Oil remained on Medical and Retail Store shelves, and in some cases were sold to consumers after January 1, 2020.

MED has identified and compiled a list below of those Vaporizer Delivery Devices product lines that included MCT Oil at one time as an ingredient and at least one unit was sold after January 1, 2020. Consumers should first check the label of their Vaporizer Delivery Device to see if the license number of the business and manufacturer matches with any product noted below, and then second, if there is a match, review the ingredients list on the label of the device to determine whether the product contains MCT Oil.

To emphasize, the table below does not suggest that Vaporizer Delivery Devices noted here contain MCT Oil. In fact MED's review of these products suggests that new formulations of these Vaporizer Delivery Devices do not contain MCT Oil. MED can not represent, however, that this list is necessarily inclusive of every Vaporizer Delivery Device that may have included MCT Oil and was sold post-January 1.

Consumers who possess a product that includes MCT Oil on the label, and that was purchased after January 1, 2020, may return it to the Store from which it was purchased for proper disposal. Consumers who experience adverse health effects from consuming the product should seek medical attention immediately and report the event to the Store from which they purchased the product.

In the HSA issued by MED on March 3, 2020, a manufacturer was erroneously included in the list below whose Vaporizer Delivery Device did not contain MCT Oil. The product and manufacturer have been removed. MED sincerely regrets the error.
